STANDARD ROUTE PEOPLE GRATIFIED AT MACVEAGH'S RESIGNATION.—EX-MEMBERS OF CONGRESS AT A DISCOUNT.—THE GRANT PEOPLE CONTINUE TO THE FRONT.—PERSONAL.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, October 26.—The star-route people to-night express much gratification at what they term the retreat of Attorney-General MacVeagh from the cabinet. They say he was proceeding in inaugurating the star-route proceedings, and, before a conclusion was reached, was the first to send in his resignation. They add that while Postmaster-General James has been active in prosecuting those charged with receiving money for services not performed as mail-contractors, he was not the law officer of the Government, and had not the same reasons as Mr. MacVeagh for remaining at his post. The fact is that for some reasons unexplained the star-route people are becoming more aggressive, and instead of appearing in the attitude of people who are to be tried they assume to be the prosecutors of their accusers. It may be that the Stalwarts do not mean that they should be prosecuted. The fact is that the Stalwart wing of the Republican party wear a lordly air, and do not look upon their Half-Breed brethren as entitled to much consideration. You can hear them continually say that Mr. Conkling will ultimately go into the cabinet, and that Mr. Blaine has no future outside of the Democratic party. I asked one of them to-night why "Lord Roscoe" was not given the Treasury portfolio instead of Governor Morgan, and he replied promptly "his time has not come yet. You only wait, and he will not only be in the cabinet, but he will be boss." I smiled at their Stalwart enthusiasm.

A THOROUGHLY STALWART CABINET.

The report to-night is that not only will Mr. Blaine be forced to retire from the cabinet, but that President Arthur will select as his advisers those who are friendly to himself, General Grant, and Mr. Conkling.

WHAT AN EX-MEMBER OF CONGRESS SAYS.

I encountered an ex-member of Congress from a western State to-day, and he remarked that one who had served his country in the House or Senate was very much like a last year's almanac or a second-hand tooth-brush. "Why," said he, "who wants to employ a worn-out congressman? If you would give me a choice between jail and cabinet minister I would take the former." "Why?" I asked; and he promptly replied, "Because it would leave me at the end of the term more money." "Then," said I, "your idea is that the one great aim of life is to make money." "Certainly," he replied, "and I regard Jay Gould as the smartest man in the United States, because he has made more money than anybody else."

THE WOMEN'S TEMPERANCE UNION.

The Women's National Temperance Union met to-day at the Foundry Methodist church. The new formerly occupied by Mrs. President Hayes was set aside for southern representatives. The demonstration when Miss Susan B. Anthony was conducted to a seat on the stand was very marked.

POSTMASTERS COMMISSIONED TO-DAY.

The following presidential postmasters were commissioned to-day: J. Spofford, Huntington, L. H. Ewart, Charleston, West Va., and Thomas Reed, Fairmont, West Va.

PERSONAL NEWS ITEMS.

Ex-Postmaster-General Cresswell is here, and the report is that he wants to be reappointed to his old position. The Chilean Minister has received information that General Kiltpatrick, our Minister to that country, is very ill. Commissioner Loring has gone to the Atlanta Exposition. Ex-Senator Dorsey, who is interested in the star-route investigation, is here. Both branches of the Minnesota Legislature yesterday declared in favor of Secretary Windom for senator. Emory Storrs, of Chicago, is here. He is a leading lawyer of that city, and a friend of General Grant. Judge Folger is again to-night spoken of as the coming man for the Secretaryship of the Treasury. Pinchback, of Louisiana, has arrived. The grand jury to-day returned additional indictments against Captain Hovage. The Senate to-day confirmed the nomination of Henry Highland Garnett as Minister to Liberia. Commissioner of Patents Marble is ill. Governor Foster, of Ohio, was at the Treasury Department to-day; he goes home after to-morrow.

BRIEF ITEMS OF NEWS.

All the members of the cabinet were present to-day except Messrs. MacVeagh and Windom, but nothing of an important character was done. Among the callers on the President to-day were Senators Vest and Garland. President Arthur, I hear, will leave Washington as soon as the Senate adjourns for New York to reconvene.

Dr. Blake, a prominent citizen of Washington, died to-day. He was a native of Virginia, and his father was mayor of Washington during President Madison's administration.

Mr. Windom and President Arthur had a very protracted interview to-day.

Government receipts to-day were as follows: Customs, $636,609; internal revenue, $389,550.

Senator Johnston was to-day attending to his senatorial duties, and looking down the worst from his chair of yesterday.

The Senate went into executive session to-day at twenty minutes past 12 and finally adjourned at ten minutes past 1.

There were very few visitors at the Capitol to-day.

To-night it is stated that Judge Folger will certainly be nominated as Secretary of the Treasury, and his New York friends may be making a better one than Sherman or Windom.

(Associated Press reports by telegraph to the Dispatch.)

THE TREASURY PORTFOLIO.

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 26.—Secretary Windom, who had an interview with the President early this afternoon, said in conversation to-night that he understood the decline of ex-Governor Morgan to be final, and that a new nomination would be shortly made. Another prominent public officer who also called on the President to-day, said Mr. Morgan gave the President to understand before his name was sent to the Senate that he would accept the proffered place. After he was nominated, but before he received notice of his confirmation, Mr. Morgan consulted his physician with regard to the expediency of undertaking the work and responsibilities of the Treasury Department. His physician advised him not to accept. He also said his wife, on the ground that his advanced age and failing strength would make the burden a heavier one than he could safely bear. In deference to their judgment, and wishing Mr. Morgan finally decided not to take the place, and wrote the President to that effect. The public officer who gives the above history of the conversation with Mr. Morgan also says that he thinks the President is now in correspondence with Judge Folger, and that an arrangement will probably be made which will insure the latter's acceptance of the Treasury portfolio. This arrangement it is intimated, will involve the ultimate transference of Judge Folger from the Treasury Department to the Supreme Court bench.

TYLER'S RESIGNATION.

WASHINGTON, October 26.—First Assistant Postmaster-General Tyler tendered his resignation to-day, as the sequel of the following correspondence shows:

Washington, D. C., October 26.—Hon. Thomas L. James, Postmaster-General:

Sir,—I enclose herewith in response to your letter of the 14th inst. my resignation as First Assistant Postmaster-General, to be delivered to the President on condition that if the request for it is based on charges against my official honor or integrity, especially in connection with the alleged star-route frauds either by direct or implied duty. (There is an omission here, but so the telegram reads.) If such charges have been made or implied it is proper that they should be clearly stated, and that I should have an opportunity to reply to them. I believe you will approve of such a course. Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

JAMES N. TYLER.

The Postmaster-General replied as follows:

Washington, October 26, 1881.—Sir,—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your resignation of the office of First Assistant Postmaster-General, which I have just handed to the President. In reply to your inquiry I have to say that the request for your resignation was not based on any reflection of your personal or official integrity. Very respectfully,

THOMAS L. JAMES, Postmaster-General.

PRESIDENTIAL NOMINATIONS.

WASHINGTON, October 26.—Among the nominations sent to the Senate to-day were Charles W. Seaton, of New York, to be Superintendent of Census; Pay-Director James H. Watson, of Pennsylvania, to be Chief of Bureau of Provisions and Clothing in the Department of the Navy, with relative rank.

CONFIRMATIONS.

WASHINGTON, October 26.—In executive session to-day the Senate confirmed the following nominations: Henry H. Garnet as Minister to Liberia; William C. Raum, United States Marshal for the Southern District of Mississippi; Henry M. Cooper, clerk of the court in and for the County of Allegheny, Pa.; and John W. C. Russell, postmaster at Bufala, Ala. A number of army and navy promotions were also confirmed.

OUTRAGE CASE.

WASHINGTON, October 26.—On application of the court of appeals this morning the case was postponed from November 7th to November 14th. Mr. Seville, in the argument, stated that, in his opinion, the court had jurisdiction, and intimated that he would not raise any question on that point.

THE ADJOURNMENT QUESTION.

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 26.—President Arthur's remark to a prominent senator that he felt confident the Senate would be able to adjourn to-morrow, or Friday at the latest. This remark was communicated to the Senate during an executive session this morning, and was understood to signify that the new nomination for the Secretaryship of the Treasury would be sent in to-morrow.

Most of the senators have become very impatient at the prolongation of the session, and while the doors were closed for a resolution was offered for immediate adjournment sine die, but in consequence of the above-mentioned statement the mover was induced to withdraw it.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY AND STEAMSHIP ASSOCIATION.

WASHINGTON, October 26.—The seventh annual convention of the Southern Railway and Steamship Association held here to-day. The Federal Senator Joseph E. Johnston, of Georgia, president of the Association, presided as chairman. About seventy delegates representing southern transportation companies were present.

MINOR MATTERS.

WASHINGTON, October 26.—The grand jury to-day found three indictments against H. W. Hovage, ex-discharging officer of the Potomac and Annapolis River at Washington, and ordering it to report in December next. Adopted.

Mr. Sherman called up the resolution offered by him yesterday for an investigation of the disbursement of the contingent fund of the Treasury Department. Adopted.

On Mr. Sherman's motion the Maine report was then referred to the Committee on Appropriations. Adjourned.

Scott's Crime.

AN EX-CARPENT-BAO GOVERNOR OF SOUTH CAROLINA ON TRIAL FOR MURDER IN OHIO.

NARLEIGH, OHIO, October 26.—Robert K. Scott, ex-Governor of South Carolina, is now on trial here for the murder of Warren G. Drury on January 24, 1880. He was indicted for murder in the second degree, and has been on bail. Drury was a clerk in Kneeland's drugstore, and on the evening of the murder was talking with the Governor. The Governor went to get his son, and says that Drury refused to admit him to his room, and made a movement to draw a weapon, whereupon the Governor drew and fired the first shot. The defense is that the shot was accidental. A jury was called, but so far nothing has been elicited to throw new light on the case.

To be Hanged.

NEW ORLEANS, October 26.—August Davis (colored), indicted for committing an indecent assault on a white woman (Mrs. Elizabeth Bell, September 17th), was convicted yesterday. He will be sentenced to be hanged.

Fatal Accident.

ATLANTA, October 26.—Frank Duke, of Quitman county, a lad of fifteen, while out gunning had the top of his head blown off by the accidental discharge of his gun.

John W. Daniel at Luray.

(Special telegram to the Dispatch.)

LURAY, VA., October 26.—Major John W. Daniel addressed the Democrats of Page county here this afternoon in a speech of three hours' duration. Tremendous enthusiasm prevailed. This is one of the strongholds of the Republicans, but the change in public sentiment has been great. There is no doubt but that the county will be carried for the Democratic ticket.

CHICAGO, October 26.—A dispatch from Keokuk reports a continued alarming rise in the level of the Mississippi River. The city is completely inundated. The city levee near there broke and the water was overflowing the Walsh railway embankment, in the southern part of the city. A number of citizens have gone to Warsaw and Keokuk for protection. It is believed there is much danger of increased floods at Quincy, Ill., as the water is still very high.

QUINCY, ILL., October 26.—The Mississippi river at this place is now higher than at any time since 1851. The running of trains on the Quincy, Alton and St. Louis branch of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad has to be abandoned on account of the weakening of the bridge over Curtis creek, one mile south of this city. Trains are running to and from Hannibal via Palmyra over the Hannibal and St. Joseph railroad.

National Cotton-Planters' Association.

VICKSBURG, MISS., October 26.—The National Cotton-Planters' Association held an important meeting yesterday. Resolutions were adopted, and the association is now in session at the Mississippi River Improvement to the Mississippi River Commission in order to avoid conflict of various plans; requesting Congress to remove the tax on cotton ties; pledging support and cooperation to the farmers alliance of Iowa in the suit against the Washburne Moon wire-fence monopoly, and inviting the farmers and planters throughout the cotton States to meet with this Association at Atlanta on December 6th, which is expected to be one of the most interesting occasions in the history of the South.

Texas Railroad Matters.

LITTLE ROCK, October 26.—A special to the Gazette from Austin, Texas, says the stockholders of the Austin Narrow-Gauge railroad reorganized yesterday by the election of a new board of directors. The new board, as president, Hon. John Hancock as vice-president, and Francis B. Foster as secretary and treasurer.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Ireland's Agitation.

LOSNOX, October 26.—Sir William Harcourt, speaking at Glasgow yesterday, after receiving the freedom of the city, said that both the late and the present governments were reluctant to proceed at an early stage against the Land League because it was not expedient to suppress a movement which was a constitutional agitation, especially if connected with a real grievance, but when such an agitation assumed illegal ends, no Government would fail to be supported in any and all measures it might take for the safety of the country. The fact, in said Sir William, is that the Government having set its hands to the plow, they might rely upon its not turning back. The speech was received with prolonged cheering.

Mr. Dodson, president of the Local Government Board, in an address at Scarborough, dwelt on the duty of the Government to protect persons and property.

Mr. Pinckett, Conservative member of Parliament, and formerly solicitor-general for Ireland, addressing a meeting at Chelsea, approved of the action of the Government in Ireland, and declared that the partisans of sedition must be shown that they would find all loyal men of every party against them, and that vigorous action in the present crisis should not be abated until every sign of resistance to law be overpowered.

These declarations and that of Mr. Chamberlain at Liverpool, made almost simultaneously, attract much attention, as they demonstrate the practical agreement of various sections of politicians on the present treatment of the Irish question by the Government.

A Catholic Bishop's Condemnation of the "No-Rail" Manifesto.

LOSNOX, October 26.—Rev. William Fitzgerald, D. D., Catholic bishop of Rieux, has issued a letter in condemnation of the "no-rail" manifesto of the Land League, in which he says that the manifesto is "in direct opposition to the best friends of the Irish people."

The London Times on Mr. Blaine's Letter to Minister Lowell.

LOSNOX, October 26.—The Times, in an editorial discussing Secretary Blaine's letter to Minister Lowell with reference to the Panama canal and the Monroe doctrine, says: "The weighty nature of the interests of America in the use of any interoceanic canal through the Isthmus of Panama will be readily admitted, but Mr. Blaine pushed the point too far when he would have the world take notice of the gravity of the Government's position on this subject, and that of Colombia has any claim to be considered in regard to the neutrality of the work. The proposition is far from self-evident, and is unfortunately not supported in the letter by arguments which will induce the European Powers, and least of all to England."

Seven Spots on the Sun.

(From the Rochester Democrat, October 24th.) Several dark spots were visible on the disk of the sun yesterday. They were not widely scattered, and might be considered as one group. These spots form the most striking view yet presented during this season of maximum sun spots. Scattered among the constant spots were several small ones that were larger than a pin's head. An eighth large spot is forming. This wonderful display of solar forces can be easily observed by all possessing telescopes without danger. Even a spy-glass fixed so that it can be turned to the sun, and using the sun as a white screen. This image can be brought into focus by sliding the tube or moving the screen to and from the eyepiece until the edge of the sun appears sharp and the spots become visible. The spots can be easily seen on an image of the sun in a box, and a small one that is placed in the box will be enlarged. But the sun must be kept from the instrument, or serious injury will result. The earth's storms seem to respond to the great storms on the sun with remarkable precision. It is to be hoped that the sun observations during the summer, in connection with the solar images, will throw some light upon the exact nature of the influence of sun storms upon the earth.

If anything could rejoice the eye, weary with the dullness of Yorktown, it would be Richmond as I see it to-day, her pleasant streets covered with flags and streamers, where the French and German guests have found a hearty welcome than here. I saw them once more at night at the Hotel. I cannot tire of looking at the handsome persons of such soldiers as the "Old Steubens" and Colonel Ross. It is that "old head" with the brass knick that I saw yesterday. He was an anxious Virginian, stretching his long neck over the crowd to get a better view. He was the handsome helmet of the French Dragons, one of the most martial and picturesque head-pieces in the world. A magnificent man, much over six feet, could not be surpassed as a type of soldierly beauty. Fairly rivaling him, however, is the old Colonel Von Steuben, tall and slender, but strongly knit, wearing a uniform of most perfect elegance and beauty.

All eyes are turned to the handsome man in the uniform of the French Dragons, one of the most martial and picturesque head-pieces in the world. A magnificent man, much over six feet, could not be surpassed as a type of soldierly beauty. Fairly rivaling him, however, is the old Colonel Von Steuben, tall and slender, but strongly knit, wearing a uniform of most perfect elegance and beauty.

It is commonly said in France, where everybody is so much interested in the army. Certainly there is much in that, with those Germans in particular. There a man, broad-shouldered, flat-breasted, stiff-necked, slender, and wiry-limbed; a man trained to a prompt and martial carriage, and the long habit of wearing the harness gives him a grace and ease in it which contrast strikingly with the loose and uncomfortable look our militia have upon our magnificent gold embroideries and cocked hats, which they have put on only for a holiday.—W. W. W., in Cincinnati Commercial.

Is a man inside the clothes to begin with:

A cannon weighing eleven tons, which is claimed will revolutionize modern gunnery, was successfully cast Monday afternoon in Reading, Pa. It is to be fired on what is termed the accelerating principle. The ball is to be started by the explosion of a small charge of coarse powder, and its speed increased by the successive explosion of separate charges of powder, ranged in chambers along the bore. It is said that with the use of one hundred and thirty pounds of powder a steel ball weighing one hundred and fifty pounds can be thrown twelve miles, which by far exceeds the power of any other gun of the calibre.

CELERY

AS A REMEDY FOR NERVOUS DISEASE.

WHAT THE MEDICAL PROFESSION SAY ABOUT IT.

THE GOOD RESULTS ATTENDING ITS USE IN HEADACHE, NEURALGIA, NEURASTHENIA, INDIGESTION, EPILEPSY, AND PARALYSIS.

Celery has only come into public notice within the last few years, but scientific experiments and experience have proved beyond a doubt that it controls nervous irritation and a powerful nervous and sick-headache to a marked degree.

Dr. Wm. S. Squire says that Celery contains more food than any other vegetable or substance used in nature. Celery was first discovered and used as a nervine by French physicians about 1667. It was combined with the extracts of CHERRY AND CHAMOMILE, which has been but recently introduced to the profession and the public by myself, has produced such marvelous results in curing nervousness and headache, and especially nervous and sick-headache, neuralgia, paralysis, indigestion, and epilepsy, that it has excited public attention and newspaper comments, and many physicians have tested the merits of the preparation with the best results, as quoted below from a few of them.

WHAT PHYSICIANS SAY.

"Dr. Bennett's preparation of Celery and Chamomile, for nervous diseases, is the most important addition made to the materia medica in the last quarter of a century."—Dr. J. W. J. Hughes, of London.

"Dr. Bennett's pills are worth their weight in gold in nervous and sick-headache."—Dr. A. H. Stewart, of Baltimore.

"These pills are invaluable in nervous diseases, such as neuralgia, paralysis, epilepsy, and indigestion."—Dr. G. P. Holman, of Charleston.

"These pills are a special preparation only for the cure of nervous diseases, and for the cure of those diseases which are the result of a nervous system, such as neuralgia, paralysis, epilepsy, indigestion, and all other nervous diseases."—Dr. J. W. J. Hughes, of London.
